DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-32 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-13, drawn to methods of forming dispersions.

Group II, claim(s) 15, 17-29 and 31-32, drawn to amphiphile particles (since claim 16 is dependent on claim 15 and recites the above methods, these claims would appear to be particle dispersions).

Group III, claim 14, drawn to a process of forming a dry powder and is improperly dependent as broader than the process of making a dispersion.

Group IV, claim 30, drawn to a dry powder.

Group V, claim(s) 16, drawn to a claim that is improperly multiple dependent, an omnibus claim and/or too indefinite to classify with the remaining groups.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I, II, III, and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Attention is further directed to Chapter 10 of The International Search and Preliminary Examination Guidelines, which may be viewed on WIPO's web site (www.wipo.int/pct/en/texts/gdlines.htm), particularly Chapter 10, particularly § 10.8.

The prior art to Landh et al, US 5,531,925, is evidence that the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, do not define a contribution over the prior art.

Applicants (page 3, second full paragraph) admit:

A method for the formation of dispersed particles of non-lamellar phase in solvents such as water is described in US 5,531,925. Such particles have a non-lamellar liquid crystalline or L₃ interior phase and a lamellar or L₃ surface phase and may also contain active ingredients.

Particular attention is directed to the independent claims. Said independent claims and those dependent thereon cannot be said to define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Landh et al (column 1, lines 10-11) further discloses fragmentation of reversed cubic, hexagonal or intermediate phases, or L₃ phases, or mixtures thereof.

Inventions of Group II or III and Group I or IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product. In the instant case the process may be employed in making particles of less than 75 % particles as non-lamellar.

3. A telephone call was made to Arthur R. Crawford on 5 March 2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
